

partnerships for the goals

17.2. Relationships supporting the objectives:

The issues addressed by the SDGs are considered as general issues that are not limited to a population or geographical boundary, and they are the responsibility of every part of society, around the world. Comprehensive development cannot be achieved without linkages between goals as the relationship between institutions is complementary. Universities as educational, research, and service institutions, have a great social and moral responsibility to support development goals and make every effort to achieve them through cooperation with local and international institutions. Unless all partners work together to achieve the SDGs, they will not be achieved.

17.2.1 Does your university have direct involvement or contribution to national government or regional NGOs in SDG policy development – including identifying problems and challenges, developing policies and strategies, modeling the potential future with and without interventions, monitoring and reporting interventions, and enabling adaptive management?

- The university's interest in the field of asylum began through the construction of the refugee studies program in 1992, then the establishment of the Center of Asylum in 1997 to be the first center in the Arab region and the Middle East to specialize in asylum, displacement and forced migration issues. In 2023, Yarmouk University celebrated the silver jubilee of the Center of Asylum establishment.

17.2.3: Is your university involved as a body in international cooperation to collect or measure data on the SDGs?

Yarmouk University has many agreements with regional and international bodies, especially through four centers specialized in sustainability issues, namely:

Center for Refugees, Displaced Persons and Forced Migration Studies

<https://rdfmsc.yu.edu.jo/>

Princess Basma Center for Jordanian Women's Studies

<https://pbc.yu.edu.jo/>

Entrepreneurship and Innovation Center

<https://eic.yu.edu.jo/index.php/projects-and-partnerships/partners>

The Center for Sustainable Development Studies, which was recently established in 2022 at the university

<https://csds.yu.edu.jo/>

These centers, through their partnerships with local and international organizations, collect and analyze data, each according to its specialization. The following table shows some of their projects:

- Launch of the research network of the Center for the Study of Refugees, Displaced Persons and Forced Migration

<https://www.yu.edu.jo/index.php/newarcat/4042-400>

Joint research between faculty members at Yarmouk University and partners from other universities also contributes to understanding and increasing awareness about the sustainability issue.

17.2.4: Does your university as a body, through international collaboration and research, review comparative approaches and develop international best practices in addressing the SDGs?

1- Since its establishment, Yarmouk University has been keen on networking, building relations, and signing cooperation agreements with various institutions, and in 2016 it has established a special department for international cooperation, which is "International Relations and Projects" <https://dirp.yu.edu.jo/>

" Yarmouk University (YU) is involved in tens of projects funded mainly by the EU through different programs such as ENPI CBC MED (now ENI CBC MED), H2020 (and formally FP7), ERASMUS+ CBHE (formally Tempus), ERASMUS+ KA107 (formally ERASMUS MUNDUS), DAAD, etc. While YU is a partner in most of these projects, depending on the rules of these programs, it led the consortium of many successful projects as a grant holder (applicant). This experience makes the university familiar with responsibilities, obligations, and rules of such joint projects."

<https://dirp.yu.edu.jo/index.php/projects/funded-projects-by-year>

Work is underway to update the list as it was obtained during the year 2022

A cultural exchange agreement was signed in 2022 with Mälardalens University, Sweden, allowing master's students at Yarmouk University in technological disciplines to obtain a master's degree from the Swedish University during an exchange period of one academic year.

The number of programs that obtained the international quality assurance certificate in 2022 reached (3) bachelor's programs: Computer Engineering, Electronics Engineering, and Industrial Engineering from the Hijjawi College of Engineering Technology. The bachelor's program in pharmacy also received international ACPE accreditation at the beginning of 2023, and the tourism management program from the College of Tourism and Hotels received accreditation from (TedQual). As shown in the following table:

The table shows the number of programs that have quality assurance certificates

2023		2022	Year
*7	1	3	Number of Programs
ABET	ACPE	ABET	Rely

The university works through the Accreditation and Quality Assurance Center to review plans and curricula according to comparative reviews, as it works to complete the audit of policies related to various issues.

During the year 2022, Yarmouk University implemented a number of projects supported locally and internationally through the Department of International Relations and Projects, amounting to (19) projects.

17.2.5: Does your university collaborate as a body with NGOs to address the SDGs?

The university is working to define its system to address development goals through:

- 1- Student Volunteer Programs: The university has developed the Youth Summer Program, which contains more than 70 events and activities, including many volunteer work aimed at promoting a culture of sustainability and achieving its goals, in addition to the work carried out by student organizations.

2- Research Programs: District

Times Higher Education (THE) Impact Rankings

Within the global scientific movement, and as a higher education institution, Yarmouk University took the initiative to promote and support research and initiatives that address all aspects of sustainable development, and to encourage students to conduct research, whether first-year students (bachelor's) or postgraduate studies.

Yarmouk University also established two specialized units, the first the Ethics Committee for Scientific Research on Animals, and the second the Ethics Council for Research on Humans.

The expected results have been achieved, and the university hopes and is working to increase the encouragement towards conducting and publishing qualitative research in the field of development.

According to scholarly publications on sustainability in the academic year 2020-2022. A total average per annum over the last 3 years of 817 publications

As the database of academics' research at Yarmouk University indicates, what has been published in the fields of health, energy, and water amounted to 1756 publications

In addition to hundreds of research papers published in journals published by Yarmouk University

Academic research on sustainability (Yarmouk university, jordan)

3- Development of educational resources:

Yarmouk University realizes that the development of educational resources has become an urgent necessity, in light of the technological acceleration, and easy access to the culture of comprehensive education, as it offers many courses, especially those related to sustainable development, either electronically or integrated, with the provision of educational material via the Internet for free?

The Husseiniya Library, which is considered one of the largest libraries in Jordan, also provides the service of providing books electronically and for free.

<https://library.yu.edu.jo/>

It also provides free electronic content through its platform on social media platforms, periodically

https://www.facebook.com/YULibrary/?_rdc=1&_rdr

The university also holds cultural and awareness seminars that include sustainability and development, where in 2022 more than hundred events and cinematic screenings, seminars and awareness and health campaigns were held in various fields.

<https://www.yu.edu.jo/index.php/component/search/?searchword=%D9%86%D8%AF%D9%88%D8%A9%202022&searchphrase=all&limit=20>

Open Educational Resources (OERs) are materials for education, study or research that are published in the public domain or issued using intellectual property licenses that facilitate the use and distribution of resources free of charge.

The university proceeds from its philosophy that universal access to quality education contributes to peace, sustainable social and economic development and intercultural dialogue. OER provides a strategic opportunity to improve the quality of education as well as improve policy dialogue, knowledge-sharing and capacity-building.

17.4.1: Is your university as a body committed to meaningful education around the SDGs across the University, which is relevant and applicable to all students?

In its practical philosophy towards comprehensive sustainable development, Yarmouk University proceeds from the adoption of procedures for spreading environmental culture derived from its cultural values based on "that the environment is a gift from God, to meet the human needs for a decent life, and individuals, communities and countries must assume their responsibilities in protecting it, and developing its various resources of air, water, climate, plant and animal life, and it is not permissible in any way to cause pollution or fundamental change in the elements of ecosystems that contribute to the disruption of natural balances.

- Whereas, teaching is one of the core tasks of the University to graduate generations qualified scientifically, culturally and skillfully and capable of making informed and balanced decisions to advance national development, which will reflect positively on global development.
- The university contains:

17.4.3: Does your university as a body have educational outreach activities dedicated – to the wider community, which can include alumni, locals, and displaced people?

The university also provides members of the local community with free access to facilities and equipment on campus, such as the library, theaters, and amphitheatres to participate in activities and get the opportunity to learn. Moreover, many activities are designed to serve the local community and strengthen partnerships with them for the sustainability of education.

The university provides the local community with access to various learning resources and activities face-to-face and electronically by providing a Zoom link for all activities, and Table (2) shows some examples:
